Dearest Doris:
The "youngest" little sister in the world I hope you have all the luck and good things you can have with your life.
Love
Lila

I don't have much room and it's easy to say
"I love you so much!"
Love
Lila

Dear Doris:
I am looking forward to next year with you in the class.
Love
Lila

To an awfully sweet girl even tho you are awfully noisy during quiet hours.
Love
Lila

Darling
Doris - the sweet fall - the young girls
one to love
Love
Lila

Doris is sweet
I think you are awfully sweet kid
and hope you will get your eighth grade next year. Love
Lila

I think you are a very sweet girl.
Love
Lila

Darling
Doris -
Love
Lila

You are a sweet thing
I don't want to lose
you
Love
Lila

Your friends
have as much fun
as you - also miss
you very much
Love
Lila

Dedication: n. (ded-i-KAY-shun) A member of the RHSM faculty whose years of experience in the school is worthy of recognition.

Peter Hayes

The yearbook staff is pleased to dedicate the 2004 yearbook to Peter Hayes. He has been a fun-loving and dedicated teacher at Rowland Hall-St. Marks for nine years. He is known for teaching biology to Freshmen, but has been active in other school activities including student council. Everybody knows him as the funniest teacher in the school. Whether conducting a hilarious experiment, or showing off his newest toy, you can hear laughter coming from his classroom a mile away. Freshmen could not learn biology from any other teacher and have it be as fun and educational. Thank you Mr. Hayes for dedicating yourself to us and sharing with us your passion for Biology and your humor.

James Accetura
 "If you're going to do something tonight that you'll be sorry for tomorrow morning, sleep
 late." -Henry Youngman

Claire Anderson
 "That doesn't make sense to me; but then, you are very small..." -Treebeard

Katie Armington
 "Let your heart guide you. It whispers, so listen closely."

Annie Barton
 "We can change the world-- Re-arrange the world-- It's dying-- to get better."
 -Graham Nash

Nathan Boyd
 "It is a miracle that curiosity survives formal education." -Einstein

Patrick Buie
 "I bet in the Middle Ages, a common mistake was not putting on your armor because you were just going down to the corner."

Tucker Burton

"If everything seems under control, you're just not going fast enough." -Mario Andretti

Alan Butler

"If you take the lonliest roads it doesn't mean that you'll be alone. And if you take the straightest roads it doesn't mean that you'll get home."

Whitney Call

"What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us." -Ralph Waldo Emerson

B.J. Callaghan

"A temper is the one thing you can't get rid of by losing it."

Alyssa Cartmill

"To do what you love, to love what you do and feel that it matters; how could anything be more fun?"

Andrew Clayton

"He had decided to live forever or die in the attempt." -Joseph Heller

James Coleman
 "A witty quote proves nothing." -Voltaire

Rory Connolly
 "Inept and oblivious. No wait, just oblivious."

Emily Drake
 "Time don't let it slip away, raise your glass, here's to yesterday." -Aerosmith

Jason Eder
 "If you live for the sunset, you may never see it rise."

Meg Ellingson
 "What's so amazing that keeps us stargazing and what do we think we might see?" -Kermit
 the Frog

David Evershed
 "Nothin' left to do but smile, smile, smile."
 -Grateful Dead

Dennis Tuáone
 "So fresh, so clean, and doing the dayum thing."

Stephen Fick
 "If you can't learn to do something well, learn to enjoy doing it poorly."

John Francis
 "I hope if dogs ever take over the world, and they chose a king, they don't just go by size. I bet there are some Chihuahuas with some good ideas." -J.H.

Mark Fuller
 "God is a comedian playing to an audience too afraid to laugh." -Voltaire

Eric Gardner
 "The old believe everything; The middle-aged suspect everything; The young know everything." -Oscar Wilde

Dylan Gitlin
 "If you don't do it this year, You'll be one year older when you do." - Warren Miller

Stephanie Graves
 "Aging is inevitable. Maturity is optional. Fubulla!"

Sarah Hall
 "Life is like the surf so give yourself to the sea." -Y tu mama tambien

Jacob Hampton

"A positive attitude will not solve all your problems, but it will annoy enough people to make it worth the effort." -Herm Albright

Graham Heagy

"Don't confuse lack of talent for genius."
-Type O Negative

Zach Hillyard

"Herbie Hancock, John Medeski, Oscar Peterson, Michel Camilo"

Anikka Hoidal

"Commit yourself to excellence." -John Hoidal

Women's Soccer

Women's Soccer: 'wu-m&ns sä-k&r. def: a game played on a field between two teams of 11 girls each with the object to propel a round ball into the opponents goal by kicking or by hitting it with any part of the body except the hands and arms -- called also association football.

RHSM Faculty-Student soccer game, Circa 1983.

This was an amazing season for Rowland-Hall St. Marks Women's Soccer. With a season record of five wins, two losses, and one tie, the season was a success.

After a trip to Hurricane, Utah for the first round of the playoffs, RHSM had a surprise win over the Tigers with a score of 2-0.

In the Quarterfinals, RHSM played Judge Memorial Catholic High School. Known as a soccer "dynasty", the 3A school beat RHSM 3-0 in an intense game. The RHSM fans were also a force to be reckoned with. (see left).

Freshmen Victoria Heagy, Liz Elliot, and Alex Jacobs proved themselves to be great assets to the RHSM varsity team.

The three sophomores on varsity, Erin Butler, Teale Orme and Tori Searl, did well throughout the season.

Juniors Meagan Norris and Katy Mohrman played tough on defense, while Alex Milne proved her skills up front. Goalie Megan Jones had two shutouts in her first varsity season.

Seniors Stephi Graves and Emily Drake also did well defensively, right behind midfielders Erin Segal and Jessica North. Mikaela Martineau played tough up front.

Senior captain Sarah Hall led the team with a total of eleven goals in the season. Captain Susan Sparrow, despite a torn ACL, supported the team at every game.

Lindsey Holmes never failed to cheer on the team, despite having to recover from an injury.

Fans Henry Schwartz, Chris Bossart, Michael Sotiriou and Briggs Matheson went all out in their support for the girls' soccer team.

With new rally scoring, and a few new rules added to high school volleyball, the RHSM Winged Lion volleyball girls had an exciting season. The Varsity team finished in 4th place in Region 14 and went 22 at the State Tournament, finishing in 8th place. At almost all of the games, fans were sitting on the edges of their seats, biting their nails, unable to anticipate what would happen next. "The teams in the region are very evenly matched this year," commented coach Kendra Tomsic. This made for a very intense and exciting season. All of the girls got along well and became a cohesive team this year. One could tell this by watching their games and seeing the smiles on their faces as they supported each other, with friendly group cheers including, "OPA!" and "AHH EXCELLENT!" Girls' volleyball had a fantastic season! GO GREEN!!

The Golf team this year was led by Sophomore Brett Jessen, who took second in the State Tournament in a thrilling sudden-death playoff. Senior Stephi Graves, the team captain, scored a 78 in the first round of the State Tournament. The State and Region team consisted of Seniors Ed Johnson and Stephi Graves, Junior Chris Childers, and Sophomores Brett Jessen, Colin Rommel and Doug Gerpheide. The other players rounding out the team consisted of Junior John Blair, Sophomores K.C. Rommel and Adam Maack, and Freshman Kieran Light. Going into Region, the team was trailing Juan Diego by 2.5 points. In order to win, our golfers needed not only to beat Juan Diego, but have another team beat them also. Although that didn't happen, the team ended up placing third in the State Tournament, a perfect way to end the season

Women's Tennis

(t ê n - n í s) - noun: A women's game played with rackets and a light ball by two players or two pairs of players on a rectangular court divided by a net. It takes blood, sweat, and tears to be a champion in this sport.

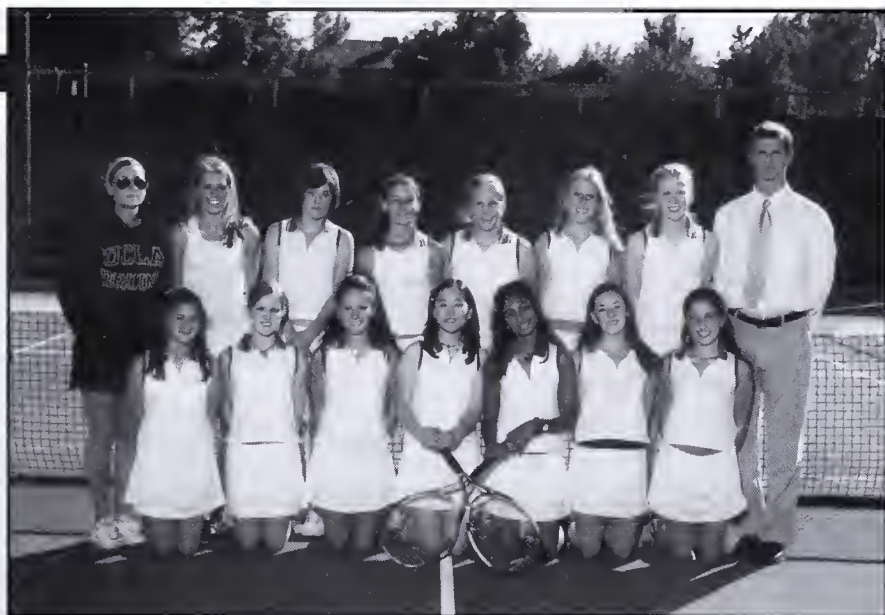

Tennis at the old Rowland Hall campus circa 1960.

This year's Womens' Tennis team played many hard fought matches, which included wins over 2A teams Juan Diego, St. Joseph's and 3A team Park City, which was a huge upset. Unfortunately, the team lost to 3A Judge and 1A Waterford, which was one of the hardest matches RHSM has ever played. The great group of girls that made up the Womens' Tennis team had great comraderie, and the majority of the girls were new to the team.

They were always supportive of one another, and Seniors Claire Anderson and Kelly Light served as great role models for the girls. The number one doubles team Victoria Moser and Stephanie Chard were unbeatable! Other varsity members included number one singles player Allie Heagy, number two singles Claire Anderson, number three singles Abby Price, and number two doubles players Sarah Freedman and Kelly Light. The year's highlight was getting second place at the State Tournament. Congratulations, girls!

Cross Country

'kro- shk jn- tre n: Old Norse kross, from Old Irish cros, from Latin cruc; crux. From Medieval Latin contrata, from Latin contra against, on the opposite side. Proceeding over countryside (as across fields and through woods) and not by roads or an oval track. Also called Cross-country running. Events are held during the fall or winter months, and many amateur athletes use the sport as a means of keeping fit and developing stamina.

Running Club member,
Circa 1980

RHSM Cross Country had an excellent season in 2003. The Men's Varsity team was only 2 points away from winning region, and they qualified for the state meet for the first time in almost a decade. At State they placed 4th. The Women's team was unfortunately unable to compete in Region, and therefore State as well due to a soccer conflict - but Teale Orme shone as an individual. This team has truly experienced the "runner's high." They gave everything they could each race, and their outstanding results are due to hardwork, commitment, and a will to win. A coach can ask nothing more than the chance to spend a sunny autumn day in spectacular canyons with this wonderful group of athletes. Thanks especially to the Varsity Seniors, whom I will miss: Stephen Fick, Paul Long, and David Wetzel, and thanks also to my assistant coaches: Keith Pankow, James Allred, and Carrie Snyder. -Jo Edwards

(b â s' k i t-b ô l) - a sport played between two teams of beast-like teenagers whom shoot baskets and do victory dances in hopes of getting a rise out of the rowdy fans in the crowd

Basketball; circa 1988.

Other key contributors were seniors Briggs Matheson, consistently the team's best post defender, and Kyle Olson, who matched up against the opposing team's top scorer virtually every night. Junior point guard Randall Crail scored a season-high 18 points in the Juab win, and gave the Winged Lions many fast break opportunities over the course of the season, an element that has been missing at RHSM in recent years. Sophomore forwards Brandan Mayer-Blackwell and Tim Mulvihill played significant minutes all season and will be two of the leaders next season. Freshmen Noel Hollingsworth and Alex Gardner also started a few games for the varsity team during the course of the season and are primed to step into the regular rotation next year. These JV players provided depth all season: juniors Mike DeVico, Simon Park, and Priyank Sharma, and Freshmen Ben Weiler and Chris Everest. With continued diligence in the offseason, RHSM will hopefully keep improving and eventually challenge for a state championship in the not too distant future.

This year, the team had a rough year with wins and loses, but they had a great time playing with each other. They had a fun group of freshmen on the team, who made every road trip an adventure. Their sophomores were great, Teale Orme was a varsity starter, and was one of the leading scorers. Katy Morhman, their lone junior, had a stand out season and was often the most agressive player on the court. The seniors were Bianca Saltz, Stephi Graves, Melissa Stirba, Meg Ellingson, swim-ming /sw&m/; spOrt; team: a group of competitive swimmers who work hard and play hard; they brave early morning training sessions and long swim meets.

Swim Team

RHSM swim team circa 1986

The swim team this year was extremely successful. With the assistance of Head Coach Larry Jackson and Coach Libby Bolster as well as the leadership of Captains Annie Barton and Mike Mulvihill, the team improved straight through to the 3A State swim meet. At the state meet, the boys placed 6th and the girls placed 7th overall. In addition to some great team finishes, many individual swimmers performed personal bests this season. Rowmark was ranked the #1 Academy in the US 2003-2004 for having the most Jr. Alpine racers in the top 100 in the US. This year the Rowmark athletes started preparing early for their busy race schedule. The 20th Annual Rowmark Ski Swap was a smashing success. It is Utah's largest Ski Swap and Rowmark's main fund raiser for the year. Jennifer Van Wagner finished 1st overall in Jackson, WY at the J3 Junior Olympic Qualifier, and 1st place at Snowbasin in the Intermountain Division South Series, and she qualified for the J3 Junior Olympics in Sun Valley. Katie Sawaya had a 1st place finish at the Intermountain Division J1-2 Olympic Qualifier. Lala Catmill had an 11th and 14th place finish against some very tough competition in the North American Junior Cup. Courtney Hammond represented Rowmark at the J2 National Championships at Lake Placid. Tucker Burton had a 3rd and 4th place finish in the Winter Park, CO FIS super G, and 7th and 9th place finish in the Western Region FIS Elite SL and GS. Rowmark had a great season!

Fans

(f ä · n z) A rowdy bunch of spirited devotées willing to make fools of themselves, paint their bodies with the school's colors, and lose their voices cheering for their team.

Rowland Hall-St. Mark's version of a cheerleading team; circa 1992.

There was a huge increase of spirit this year at Rowland Hall - St. Mark's. Fans showed up to girls' soccer games regularly, and many went to the cross country meets, tennis matches, and golf games throughout the fall season. It continued into the winter season when RHSM fans filled the bleachers for the basketball games not only at home but away, too. We may be a 2A school, but we definitely make up for our small size with our huge spirit.

Community Service

kə-myoo-ni-tē sūr'vīs -

Dedicated students, from all grades, come together to volunteer service to benefit not only the RHSM community, but Salt Lake community as a whole.

Liz Paige circa '92

On October 21, 2003 the entire RHSM community, including teachers and parent volunteers, headed in thirty-five different directions to serve their community. After dealing with the dreaded PSAT and Plan testing in the morning, the students met up in groups to participate in different activities. From raking leaves to making pillows to performing music for senior citizens, to delivering food to homebound people, RHSM served their surrounding community in an astounding manner. It was the first time the entire Upper School participated as a complete group in a service project. "We hope this will be an annual event," Director of Community Service, Liz Paige commented. Although it was only a half day event, the students gave it their whole heart.

Amnesty had a very successful year, starting with the annual human rights film festival in October for which they had a record attendance. They then held their annual Holiday Card Action event in December. Their goal was to get 500 cards, surpassing last year's goal of 450. They shattered that record and involved the Upper and Middle School. To raise money for expensive international postage, they sold Fair Trade chocolate. For their Student Week Action, they focused on the women of Juarez, Mexico to raise awareness among students and work to combat the violence across the border.

Interact

(i' n' tər-ākt') Worldly and local community service. A Rotary program for highschool students.

International Activists circa 1978

Interact is a club devoted not only to serving the local community, but also places emphasis on international service projects. In fact, that is what makes Interact so unique at Rowland Hall. Locally this year, we have worked alongside LifeCare to aid senior citizens in yardcare. But our biggest focus has been the international side of Interact. We have worked alongside Mission of Mercy, a service organization in Northern India, to send impoverished kids to school. We also raised money to help villages on the Eastern Coast of India. Overall this year has been a terrific success and while this might be our first full year as a club there will be many more to come.

NHS has accomplished much this year. Selling sweatshirts for a fundraiser, and collecting bikes for children on the Navajo reservation are just a few ways they have given back to the community. On February 19, 2004 they volunteered their time to play with the kids at Head Start. They decorated cookies and read to those eager to learn. It was a fulfilling experience for all involved. # Students for AIDS Awareness

A group in its first year of operation working alongside of the Utah AIDS Foundation to join in the fight against AIDS from within the RHSM community.

RHSM circa 1950

In its first year at Rowland Hall-St. Marks, the Students for AIDS Awareness started the year by baking pies for the Utah AIDS Foundation's Thanksgiving Food Baskets. The baskets were so successful that the group did it again for Christmas. On World AIDS Day, the group put together a program for the school. Students for AIDS Awareness also helped out with the Utah AIDS Foundation's Walk for Life. The first year was a successful one!

Latin Club

(lā't'n klüb) Comprised of Latin students, the Latin Club is involved with community service projects as well as spreading Latin joy around the world.

Latin Club circa 1994

Latin Club was more successful than ever this year. One of the accomplishments was the organization of the Middle School/ High School dance. The discipuli also participated in several community service events, such as volunteer work at the Christmas box house. Along with helping the community, Ms. Howard organized a trip of a lifetime destined for Italy.

Spanish Club

(spā'nī sh klüb) a group of sparkling individuals who love spending time together helping people less fortunate. They pride themselves in their work and even sing Spanish songs throughout the hallway.

Spanish club circa 1984

Spanish club this year was headed up by Jessica North and Anikka Hoidal. They had a bake sale fundraiser in which they raised about one-hundred dollars. With this money, they plan to buy sweatshirts and have a fiesta. Overall, it was a very successful year.

French Club

(frĕnch klüb) A group of talented French speakers who volunteer their extra time helping out people in need, always with a smile.

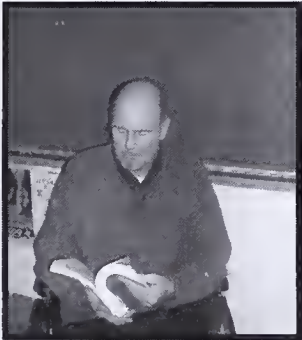

French Club circa 1960

French Club kept busy this year. Elections were held in October, and events were in full swing by December. A friendly competition between the five French classes to raise clothing, food, and books for the poor ended successfully before Winter Break. French Club worked hard to raise money to save African girls from female genital mutilation. All in all the French Club has played an important part in making the community a better place.

College Counseling

(k'ŏ l'ij koun' s'ŏ ling) a fundamental part of the school, it is there to help the college bound students find which college is right for them and to make students look good on paper in hopes to get into the college of their choice.

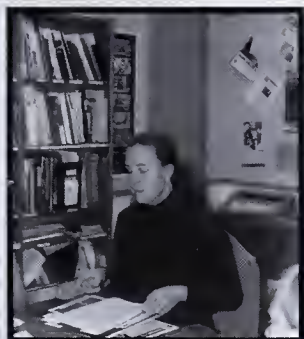

College counseling circa 1989

This year college counseling has once again outdone itself. Helping countless students get into college is what it's all about for Bruce Hunter and newcomer Lee Nuckolls. To ensure this they hold countless small group meetings, the book of the week is presented every Monday in morning meeting, and a surplus of announcements are made regarding college and tests needed to be taken to get into college.

Student Council

(s t̄oo d' n t • k ō ũ n s ə l) - a group of awesome kids comprised of all four grades that strive towards creating excellent dances and stomps, great fund raisers, and "are the shiznit" says the Student Body President Dennis Tuāone. Where would we be without the Student Council?

Officers, circa 1986

This year's Student Council was one of the most productive and enthusiastic Councils in Rowland Hall - St. Mark's history. They were in charge all year of putting on amazing dances (including the Aloha Stomp, Halloween Stomp, Winter Formal, Spring Fling, Prom, and the new dance Morp) where they spent many hours dreaming up the location, decorations, music, and food. Not only that, but they were busy making posters to advertise Student Council events all year long and helped have a great Spirit Week and Battle of the Classes. "Can-Aid" was one of the Student Council highlights of the year where bands from Rowland Hall - St. Mark's played to help donate cans to the Can Food Drive. This is a great group of kids who worked hard to make your year the best it could possibly be.

Yearbook

(yîr'boók) A book published once a year to comemorate all the events in the year. Everyone loves yearbook staff, despite their grumpiness due to the 7:40am classes. Smile for the camera!

Yearbook Staff,
circa 1984

This year was quite an excursion for the yearbook staff. With only seven members, they sure had their work cut out for them. Six of the seven members were inexperienced novices. Eventually, the book did get finished and along the way, B.J., Tori, Maran, Lindsey, Gretchen, Martha, and Megan had the time of their lives.

Newspaper

Rowland Hall Newspaper Staff circa 1954

This year's newspaper staff was great. The reporters always got their facts down and editing was practically flawless. Working in the school's basement "PUB" room kept the staff on-task and dedicated. There were a few additions to RHSM's Gazette, including Ask Betty (an anonymous advice column that head-quarters out of the commons) and RHSM lookalikes (students that resemble famous people). thanks for all the memories!

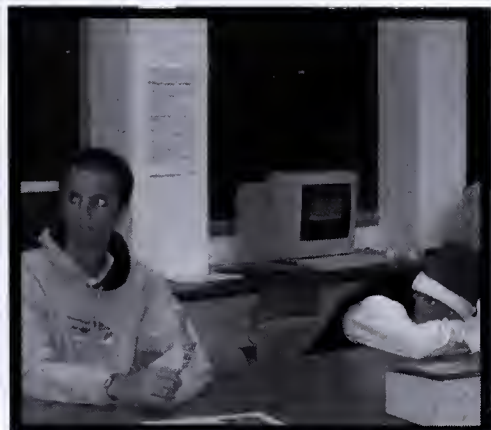

Mandy Miller, Molly Jones and Katie Albee are an absolute must for Newspaper staff.

Pick: One

(Pih•K Wün) The literary magazine of Rowland Hall - St. Marks; a collection of art, photography, poetry, essays and creative work of all kinds. A compendium of works created by the students of RHSM.

Publication staff, circa 1950

Every year, the format of the literary magazine of Rowland Hall - St. Marks changes completely. Every part of Pick: One is created and inspired by student artwork. The Pick: One staff, led by Chris Arigo, spends the first part of the year working on creative writing (and they're great writers) and the Spring is spent putting the magazine together.

Junior Laura Kiechle is attentive and engaged in the Pick: One classroom.

A record number of new debaters added fresh talent to an already strong debate team this year. After a couple of months of preparation, we began to debate in late October. At the first tournament of the year; Weber State, David Marquardt took first place in the varsity division of Lincoln-Douglas debate. Those participating in policy team debate had a strong showing November 14-15 at the BYU tournament; Colin Rolfs and Carmina Lu got to quarterfinals and Karla Penman and Claire Anderson made it to the semifinals. The first national tournament of the year, at the University of Texas, saw another strong performance by David Marquardt as he made it to octofinals in Lincoln-Douglas. Most recently the whole squad psyched up for the national Silver and Black tournament at Alta High School, where every one of our teams had a winning record. Alan Butler made it to octofinals at the tournament. The debate season continued into the spring of 2004.

Senior Christmas Land

(Señiör Cris·mâs Lând)- a day of the year in which the Seniors decorate their hallway for Christmas and dub it "Senior Christmas Land," all in the glorious spirit of the holidays.

Senior Hall; circa 1989

To get everybody in the Christmas spirit, the Senior class brought Christmas to the school early by decorating their hallway with flashing lights, streamers, Santa hats, and even a Christmas tree. The school was filled with Christmas music and holiday cheer!

The Seniors take a break with streamers and signs littering their hall.

Michael Sotiriou, Jessica North, Sarah Hall, Shawn Radman, Jared Long, Emily Drake, and Dennis Tūāone model their Santa hats.

B.J. Callahan studies by his locker illuminated by the light of the miniature Christmas tree.

Shawn Radman and Jared Long embracing each other in the light of Christmas spirit.

Candle and Carol

k'ñ' dl' ðnd k'ä'r'ə'l An annual Rowland Hall- St. Marks holiday season tradition that has occurred every year since the merger of the two schools.

Candle and Carol,
1950

This year candle and carol was simply beautiful. With great performances by the choir, solo singers and the bell choir, it was a night to be remembered. The desserts were delicious, the students were well behaved, and everyone had a great time.

Meg Ellingson, the vergers for Rowland Hall- St. Marks school kept all performers in line this year.

Right: Before the nights events, the whole student body is gathered into the basement of the church for some high quality bonding in a small space.

Right: Jr. vergers Brooke Segodnia and Emily Drake are sharing the spirit of the night.

Navajo Santa

nǎv'ahó'sǎnt'ə A yearly fundraiser that gives Rowland Hall- St. Marks students an opportunity to give gifts to less fortunate families on the Navajo Reservation.

Rowland Hall students circa 2003.

Navajo Santa has been a long standing tradition in Rowland Hall- St. Marks School for many years. This year was the first in our history that students had the opportunity to travel with the packages purchased by the school down to the reservation.

Left: A woman is anxiously awaiting her generous gifts. Every year, the people of the reservation are extremely grateful for the generosity of the students.

Above: Brooke Segondia, Erin Segel, Raggs Ragan, and John Francis were some of the lead organizers of the project.

This is an example of one of the adobes on the reservation. It gives an idea of the impoverished living these people suffer.

Above: Look at the scenery! Two people in the Rowland Hall family are enjoying the sights right before they have to leave the reservation.

School Dances

skööl böö·gies - an excuse for members of all four grades to come together for one night full of music, dancing, and good times.

Old School Aloha Stomp; circa 1988.

The school dances this year were some of the best Rowland Hall - St. Marks had ever seen. They began with the Aloha Stomp in September followed up by the Halloween Stomp in October. Both of these dances were very successful and attendance was high. Morp was added to the line-up of dances this year, and everybody had a great time. The first formal of the year, Winter Formal, came next which was then followed by Spring Fling and Prom. Hopefully next year's dances can live up to the standards set this year...

Briggs Matheson mixing it up and showing off those abs and guns at the Aloha Stomp in September.

Everyone at the Halloween Stomp says: "C'mon, c'mon do the locomotion with me..."

This group has an awesome time under the new bubble machine at the Aloha Stomp.

Juniors Martha Hauser and Ryan Goldstein attempt to put out the blaze at the Halloween Stomp. That stomp was on fire!

Seniors Kristen Lence, Melissa Stirba, Chelsea Webber dressed as "Men at Work" for Halloween.

These Greek Goddesses danced the night away: Dana Pool, Amanda Towner, Tori Searl, and Maran Smith.

Granny Jared Long, pirate Alan Butler, Chippendale boy Michael Sotiriou went all out for their Halloween costumes.

Alan Butler flies down the slip n' slide at the Aloha Stomp. This served as a great form of entertainment throughout the night.

Above: Freshmen Annie Thompson, Megan Rolfs, Julianna Simon, Olivia Aker, Matilde Williams, Liz Elliot, and Mallory Rosenthal had a great time at their first Winter Formal.

Below: Juniors Simon Park, Ella White, Ryan Goldstein, and Anna Parks take a break from dancing and enjoy some refreshments.

Morp Princess Katrin Sharp, Amanda [unclear], and Michael Mulvihill boogie down.

Philip Bernhisel and Willy Nevins showing off their thug side at Morp.

Michael Sotiriou and Anikka Hoidal get ready to dance to the electric slide.

AJ Oliver is feeling the love from his two lady friends, Alex Jacobs and Abby Price.

James Coleman, Sarah Day, Kyle Olson, and Stephanie Rosenthal dance the night away.

The majority of the student body showed up for the newest dance, Morp, where they grooved all night. Shake ya tailfeathers!

Maran Smith and Dana Pool have just enough time to show off their Morp costumes before dancing away. The theme of the dance was to dress opposite of prom, and everybody went all out for this one.

Art Start

Art Start, Two days totally devoted to getting Rowland Hall- St. Marks upper school students to express their artistic side. There is something for everyone, and hey, it is an excuse to not have classes for two days.

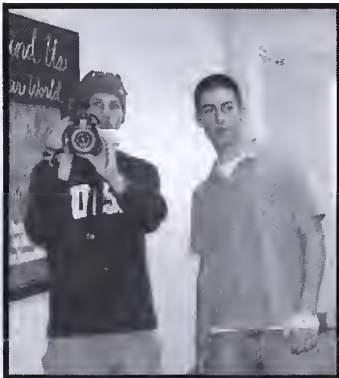

Art Start dance Circa: 1982.

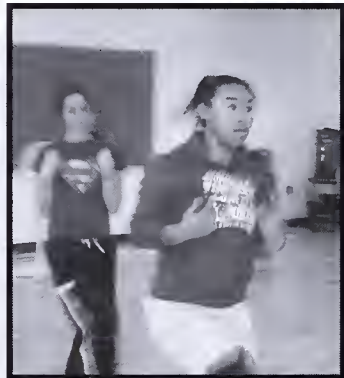

Calson and his assistant Dave Pavlov, Benjamin Jenkinon, Polly Parkinson, Madelyn Garrett, Eric Leaptrot (Digga Beats), Hyunsuck Shin, Judy Iwamoto, Ruby Chacon, Trent Call, Bill Hughes and the men at Spyhop Productions.

Art Start has been a tradition in Rowland Hall- St. Marks for many years. Several artists have become regulars. This year several choices were added, including mural painting, street art and water color pencils. The artists, that graced the school's presence this year were Kirstin Ulmer, Fred Simpson, Dana Costello, Dolores Perez, Bonnie Sucec, Andy Hoffmann, J.D. Stokes, Donna Pence, Michael Begué, Macey Mott, Tim Swing dance partners Alexis Sellet and Daniel Champlin have got their moves down.

Liz Dealey-Thomason and Annie Thompson are kicking it up a notch in their hip-hop artstart.

Senor Burnett and Ms. DelMar practicing their mad skills in magic. Be careful, they might turn you into a frog.

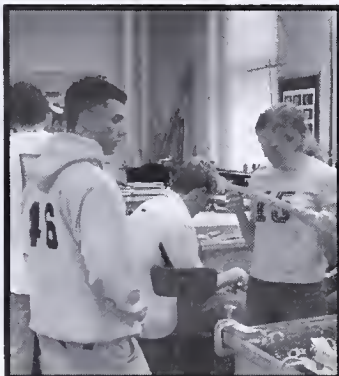

Ruby Chacon is showing her students in mural painting how to get the picture accurate in their mural.

Mark Fuller and Mikaela Martineau deciding whose flute is prettier.

Mike DeVico and Sophie Ashton love oragami.

Stained glass was the Art Start of choice for senior Jessica North.

Freshman A.J. Oliver is mixing it up with hip hop instructor Digga Beats.

Puttin' On the Arts High School Style!

Concentration is key when it comes to the art of drum making. Dennis Tūa' one is the master at this. Watch out for that look.

Left: Alex Milne sure became a pro during ceramics. Her creation is in progress.

Below: Caroline Lang, Kai Tohinaka and Megan Jones are braving the cold and hoping not to inhale too many spray can fumes while showing off their street art.

Mairin McCarthy is deeply focused on her water-color pencil masterpiece.

Shawn Radman looking feminine in his outfit. However, Ed Johnson is not impressed.

Katie Mohrman showing off her Mexican paper flowers she created one of the two days.

Funk Master Hayes and Digga' Beats busting a move to impress the tough Junior critic, Lindsey Holmes.

Alyssa Cartmill likes getting dirty, at least when it comes to making beautiful ceramic masterpieces.

Break dancing is also an art form. Laura Kiechle has gotten it down pat.

Winter Sports

(WHIN-tur SPORTS) n. The exciting choice of eleven different sporting events to choose from every Friday afternoon in the winter season.

WINTER SPORTS CIRCA 1981

In January and February students attend a winter sport of their choice for six Fridays. The wide selection this year included Skiing, Snowboarding, Ice Skating, Ice Hockey, Climbing, Bowling, Tennis, Swimming, Archery, Self-Defense, and Community Service. This is an annual event that all students look forward to.

Right: The '03-'04 winter had a record amount of snow. Skiers and snowboarders were anxious to hit the slopes and scrape the fresh powder.

Above: There's nothing like the feeling of going up the silent lift awaiting the beautiful sight at the top of the mountain.

Right: Caroline Lang and other girls (and Arigo) learned what to do in the face of danger. It seems she feels the need to make gangster signs at the enemy.

Upper Right: Carlos Tiburcio releases his bowling ball in a smooth and gentle toss. Looks like he just might pick up that spare.

Right: Chris Casey is bundled up and ready for some extreme snowboarding.

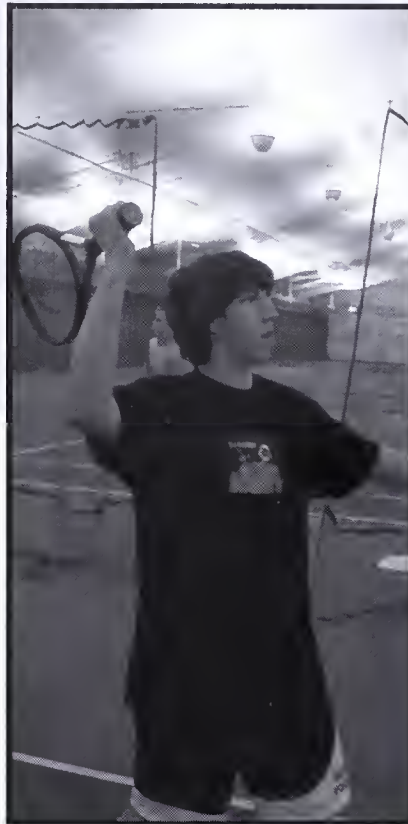

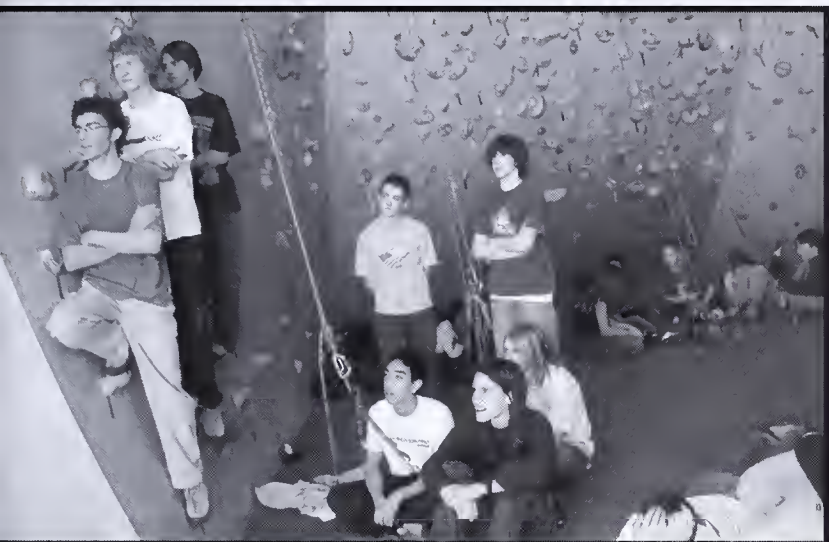

Left: Sam Legge plays ice hockey rather well for a freshman. Also, you can't expect him to get hurt with all that protective padding.

Below Left: An array of Juniors and Sophomores are present to reach new heights. They test their strength on the climbing walls at Rockreation.

Above: Most students will get bundled up on the bus ride up to the slopes. Is it me, or does Rory Connelly have his glove on backwards?

Left: Chris Felt is trying out tennis for the first time in his life. He became quite efficient in the sport after only six weeks.

Below: Nick Badami gets ready to strike yet another goal. Now that's what you call "slap stick."

Above: As demonstrated by Dan Conwell, after a long day on the mountain, the bus ride home is most relaxing.

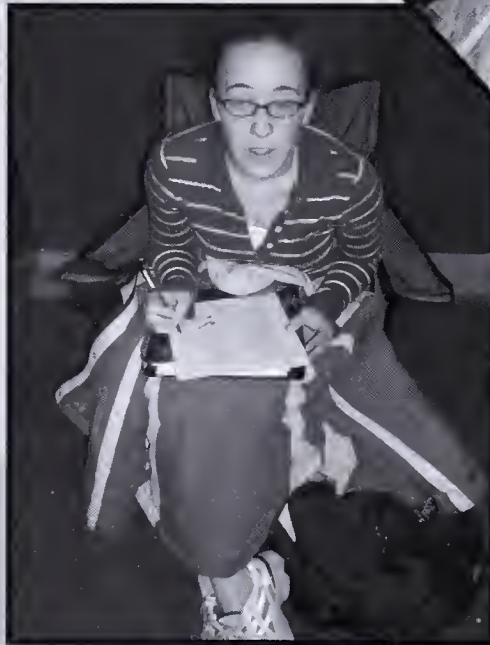

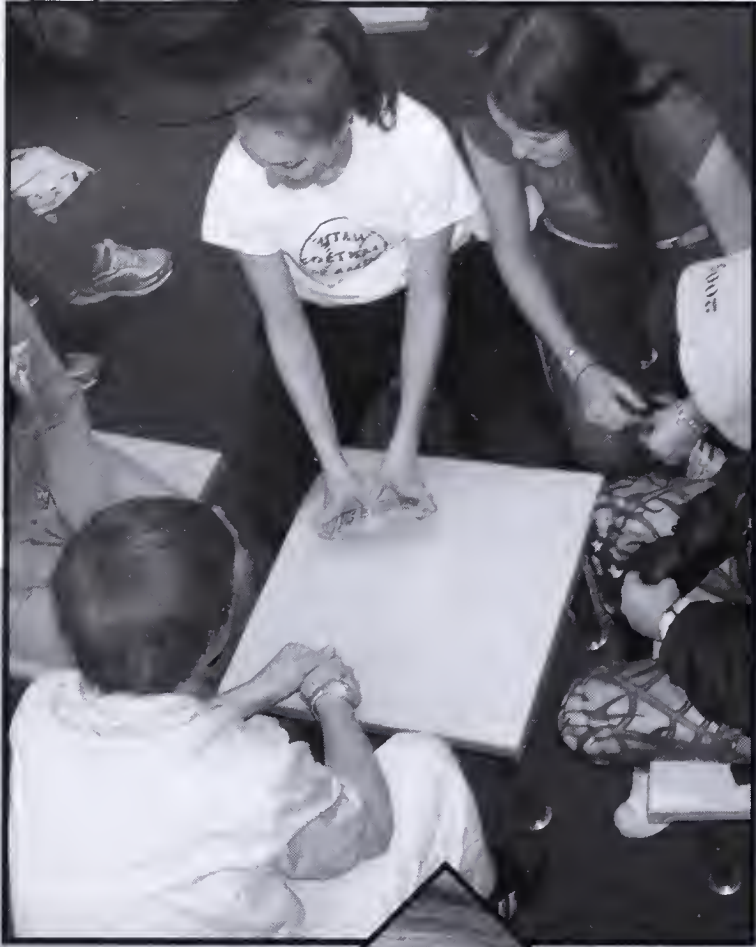

Left: You can get lost while climbing and forget which way is up. Just don't look down.

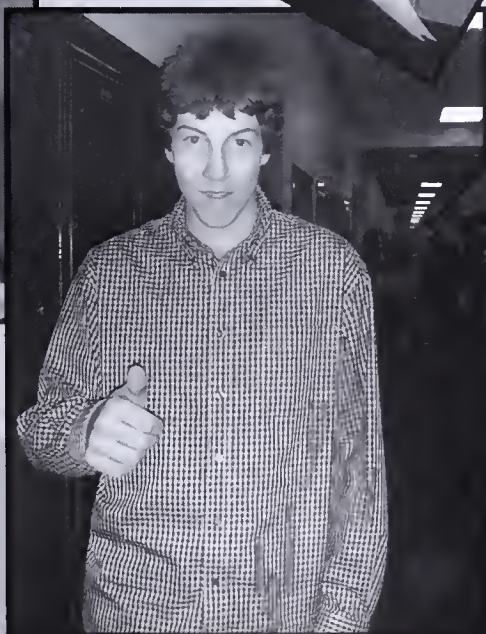

Left: Alexis Sellett and David Brodsky are always on target. With a reach of the arm and a quick release, the arrow will be on the bullseye in a fraction of a second.
